ACT* VERBAL PREP - GROUP CLASS

Mercer Education’s ACT VERBAL PREP provides a comprehensive, effective learning experience that prepares students for the English, Reading, and Writing tests of the ACT. Our curriculum offers a robust, integrative approach to understanding and applying standard grammar rules, critical reading skills, and essay-writing essentials while also emphasizing time management and test-taking strategies. Students will complete one test every two weeks, allowing them to systematically identify areas of weakness. They will receive in-depth feedback and score analysis from experienced instructors while following a prescribed timeline of instruction that covers the essentials of ACT preparation in approximately five months (or two months during the summer).

The group ACT Verbal class runs as three separate comprehensive courses: a fall semester course from September through January (approximately 19 weeks), a spring semester course from February through June (approximately 19 weeks), and an 8-week course for July and August, which addresses the topics at a faster pace. Each course has its own unique content with no repetition of material so students can attend for as long as they like to continue honing their skills. While a majority of students enroll for longer periods in order to strengthen and refine their skills beyond familiarity with core content and achieve their target scores on the ACT, Mercer Education’s 2-month enrollment cycle with pro-rated rolling admission provides maximum flexibility so that students can determine when they are ready to take the actual test. Students may enroll at any time (enrolling midway through the course is no problem) and receive a free assessment, after which they are assigned to appropriate groups according to level and availability.
